Supervisors preparing to file application for marina grants

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Hancock Board of Supervisors voted Wednesday to seek additional assistance to get grant applications filed for the Bayou Cadet Marina.

Senator Gene Taylor told the board he was committed to this project and that after two years in the planning stage it was time to turn in some funding applications.

Taylor said with recent legislation, grant funds are "drying up fast."

"All the plans in the world are no good without funding," he added. Supervisor Burt Courgeau told

Taylor the board had recently taken a new approach to the project and have selected a "fine site."

"We have moved the location to the back somewhat and selected an eight-acre site with potential for 200 slips," he said.

Based on Taylor's recommendation, the board agreed to talk with Reba Caper of Jackson County who Taylor said had "expressed an interest" in the project and was capable of filing the applications.

Also at the meeting the board approved appointments of Royce A. Kaupp and Louise Williams to the Human Resources Council.

Miss Buccaneer State Park Pageant scheduled Saturday

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

Six young ladies from Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties will vie for the Miss Buccaneer State Park title in a 7:30 p.m. pageant at the Waveland park Saturday.

The event, scheduled at the Wave Pool, is free and open to the public.

Winner will be eligible to participate in the Miss Mississippi State Park Pageant June 30 at the Sheraton Regency Inn in Jackson.

Nicole Bettman of Gulfport, the 1985 Miss Buccaneer title winner and a student at Harrison Central High School, will crown this year's winner Saturday.

Among past winners of the Miss State Parks title is Susan Akin of Meridian, the reigning 1986 Miss America.

She took a preliminary title at Clarkco State Park near Quitman in Clark County in 1984.

In addition, Miss Buccaneer of 1983, Patty Lewis of Pascagoula, went on to win the state title that year.

She is currently a law student at Loyola University in New Orleans, La.

The 1985 state title winner, Laurie Mullis of Hattiesburg, is a University of Southern Mississippi student.

She won a preliminary crown at Paul B. Johnson State Park near Hattiesburg.

Trustee urges unity in supporting new Bay school superintendent

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Bay St. Louis Municipal School District Board Trustee L. D. Carter told the board Monday he would "not stand for" a reduction in Superintendent-elect Roger Oge's proposed annual salary.

Carter's proclamation followed a motion by Board Member Linda Penrose to decrease Oge's proposed salary from $47,500 to $40,000.

Penrose based her motion on the facts that Oge has "not quite one year of experience as a superintendent" and because of the board's attempts at "pinching pennies" wherever possible.

"I don't believe we should be paying an unprecedented salary to someone who has not proved himself," she added.

Carter said he believed if the board took this action, Oge would probably not be willing to come here as superintendent.

"If the board loses such a capable man as Oge, you will lose one board member as well," Carter stated.

Carter said Wednesday, that believed it was time Oge got some real cooperation from the school district.

"Based on a recommendation by the search committee, the majority of the board selected Oge, the majority of the board approved his three-year contract and a salary of $47,500. It is time we stand together and give him 100 percent cooperation," Carter added.

Penrose's motion was seconded by Cyril Glover. Board members Carter and Reginald Robinson voted against the motion, with Penrose and Glover in favor.

Board President Betty Diboll stepped down to break the tie and voted against the motion.

Earlier in the meeting the board approved dress codes for the high school and junior high school at the regular meeting.

Board President Betty Diboll said the dress codes were submitted following study by committees comprised of board members and teachers from each school.

According to Superintendent J. D. McCullough there were only minor changes to the existing codes.

Junior high teacher Peggy Dutton asked the board if the new code would allow students to wear shorts to school.

Diboll said that wearing shorts was not allowed and when questioned further stated the committees had not requested that change.

Following the discussion for the students' dress code, Board Member Linda Penrose made a motion that the current policies regulating teachers' dress code be reviewed.

Penrose said she had reports of teachers wearing sweatshirts, jeans and tennis shoes and did not think that was a proper example for the students.

The board voted to have a committee investigate the need for a dress code for teachers.

Band Director Lana K. Jones addressed the board on the "desperate need" of new band uniforms.

Jones told the board that the 1986 band completed the year with 37 members but had 61 potential members for next year.

There will not be enough uniforms for the band members next year and only 60 percent will have hats, according to Jones.

Although when the current uniforms were purchased there were 75 complete uniforms, there are currently only 63 coats, 64 pants and 36 hats usable, Jones said.

Jones also said because of sizing of the present uniforms, larger band students will not have uniforms next year.

She recommended the board consider ordering 75 new uniforms with an extra 12 for the 1987-88 school year.

According to a preliminary investigation by Jones, the uniforms would cost approximately $225 each for a total of $16,875.

Jones also said most uniform companies could deliver in 130-150 days and will provide a sample uniform for board approval.

Diboll said as the band represents the school at many functions this matter should be thoroughly studied to find a way to get the new uniforms.

The board voted to take the matter under advisement.

Also at the meeting several outstanding Bay High School students and their parents were recognized by the board and presented certificates of achievement.

Trustees Betty Diboll and Linda Penrose presented the certificates to students for achievements in journalism, band and vocational-technical competitions as well as

GATHERING INFORMATION—Hancock County Coroner Harold Stiglet, right, seeks information from William McClure who pulled the body of Charles R. Doherty, 57, Box 387D, Bay St. Louis, from Shoreline Park canal off Bonita Drive Monday afternoon. Stiglet said Doherty was pronounced dead at the scene from an apparent accidental drowning. The victim's boat was seen in a canal near his residence by neighbors before his body was discovered floating face down, Stiglet reported. An autopsy report should be ready by today, Stiglet indicated. In addition to Stiglet, the case is being handled by Hancock County Criminal Investigator Delbert Seay. Doherty's remains were shipped from Edmond Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis to Eaton Moore Funeral Home in Hattiesburg for funeral services. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

THREE VEHICLE ACCIDENT—Callister Rosemond, 18, injured left, awaits being loaded in the ambulance while Mobile Medic personnel prepare leg splints on Michelle Robinson, 17. Both Rosemond and Robinson, who were on a motor scooter, were injured in an accident involving two cars Tuesday afternoon on Washington Street. Bay Police Officer Don Ocasio said the accident is under investigation and conflicting accounts of the accident had been given. Neither Janie Langstrand or Angilna Johnson, drivers of the vehicles, reported any injuries but there was slight damage to the vehicles. Robinson, with two fractured legs and multiple contusions and abrasions, is in serious condition in the intensive care unit, according to Mary Perkins, Hancock General Hospital spokeswoman. Rosemond, with multiple contusions and abrasions, is in good condition, she added. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

Driver in stable condition following accident

Douglas Schenck of Shoreline Park is in stable condition at Memorial Hospital in Gulfport following an automobile accident early Tuesday morning on Highway 903.

Schenck, who was earlier listed in guarded condition in the intensive care unit, received head and facial injuries in the accident but has improved, said Ada Reid, director of the hospital's public relations department.

According to Mary Schenck, his sister, Schenck is expected to be released from the intensive care unit Thursday, May 15.

She also said in addition to lacerations, Schenck had several fractured ribs, a broken arm, a broken nose and a shattered chin.

Schenck was traveling east on the Kiln-Waveland cutoff road when he apparently crossed 603, hit a ditch and turned upside down.

He was driving a 1970 blue Oldsmobile Cutlass.

Death sentence sought in capital murder trial

A capital murder trial for Lorie Williamson Jr., 50, of Robertsdale, Ala. is underway this week in Hancock County Circuit Court.

Prosecuting attorneys Gray Burdick and J. P. Compretta are seeking the death penalty in the trial.

Williamson is charged with killing Laura Jeanne Thoman, 47, of BaySide Park. Thoman was reported missing Feb. 20, 1984 and her body was found the following May in a wooded area near Oil Well Road off Lakeshore Road by a Swedish camper.

Opening arguments were completed Wednesday morning by prosecuting attorneys and Hancock County Public Defender William M. Frisbie and Robert K. Asher, defense attorneys.

Hancock County Investigator Delbert Seay, who was in charge of the investigation following the discovery of the body, began testimony Wednesday.

The prosecution expects to call six witnesses. Only one witness was sworn in Wednesday.

Burglary suspects arrested

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Two suspects were arrested by the Hancock County Sheriff's Office in connection with a number of burglaries on Lakeshore Road.

Glen Strong, Hancock County criminal investigator, said, "Richard A. Mayne, 20; and Craig J. Parker, 19; both BaySide Park residents were arrested in connection with burglaries on Lakeshore Road."

The investigator stated that Mayne was arrested on May 12 and Parker on May 9.

Items recovered during a two week investigation into the burglaries include air compressor; battery charger, two TV sets, riding mower, washer and dryer, Strong said.

Parker and Mayne are out on bond awaiting court appearances, according to Strong who is in charge of the case.

Bay resident charged with fondling

The bay leaf, traditional special ingredient of the "bouquet garni" so integral to French, Creole and Cajun cookery - and some other cuisines as well - and its parent tree, the sweet bay or laurel, have a long association with honor as well as with good cookery.

The ancient Greeks used the laurel leaves to fashion the wreaths with which they crowned the victors in the Pythian games; and the ancient Romans often used the laurel wreath as well, and so on down through the years.

A bay leaf or so does wonders for many a dish, and it's a puzzle to me why so many cooks and cookbook writers ignore the bay leaf - I suspect that I may even have used a bay leaf or so in the muddies of my childhood days! If you haven't a tree handy, you can always buy the leaves dried.

A leaf sparks tomato juice or sauces or butter-dripping boiled new potatoes. It's an essential ingredient of gumbo, pot roast, stews and other such dishes - just remember to remove the leaf before serving, lest someone choke on it.

In South Louisiana's Cajun land, cooks use bay leaves lavishly in turning out their wondrous, robust dishes, such as this Cajun Chicken Stew, which I've heard called by the names of various towns and cities along the bayous and roads, with the ingredients changed a bit here and there as it travels.

So here's:

IRISH KATY'S CAJUN CHICKEN STEW

2 chickens, cut into serving pieces
1 cup chopped green peppers
1 cup chopped parsley
1 cup chopped green onions (our shallots)

3 bay leaves
1 pod garlic, chopped
Pinches of thyme and rosemary
1 pint of hot water or chicken broth
"The Roux"

"The Roux," of course, is essential in Creole or Cajun cookery - heat two tablespoons of oil or shortening in a heavy skillet, sprinkle in two tablespoons of flour, and over the lowest of fires, stirring all the while, let it brown, adding the seasonings and continue cooking, then the liquid.

Of course, you've cut the chicken up yourself or you have the cut-up pieces ready - wiped dry, also of course - you've sprinkled the parts with cayenne and a bit of salt if you must, and marinated them in a cup or so of milk or buttermilk for at least a couple of hours. (I should have told you all this at the start, but I'm so used to that way of cooking that I sometimes forget!)

At any rate, if you're still listening or reading, make your roux as above, then add the other seasonings, and very gradually a pint of hot water or chicken stock (substituting a bit of wine, too, perhaps.)

Economist schedules Decorator Pillow Program

Darlene Underwood, Extension home economist, will present a program on finishing decorator pillows, Friday at 10 a.m., at Sew 'n' Sew Fabric Shop, Shieldsboro Square, Bay St. Louis.

"With so many people doing needlework this is an excellent and inexpensive way to add a truly personal touch to your home," said Underwood.

The program will teach measuring, for and constructing ruffles, making a continuous bias to cover cording, how to finish pillows for that professional look and ways to increase the size of needlework to make a larger pillow as well as many other techniques.

The class is free and open to any interested individual.

Court restrains business

Attorney General Ed Pittman was granted a temporary restraining order Friday prohibiting Truman Brinkley of Pearl from conducting any further business in the state of Mississippi.

Brinkley, according to a Consumer Protection Division investigation, signed contracts for the sale of at least 252 portable storage buildings and collected at least $105,000 from his customers.

Brinkley apparently left Pearl on May 6. On May 6, his employees found a note from Brinkley stating that he was giving up his business. The attorney general's complaint against Brinkley says Brinkley "did not have and did not intend to obtain materials with which to complete these storage buildings at the time he entered into the contracts."

The Consumer Protection Division is asking for restitution of the amounts paid on the contracts and damages, in addition to prohibiting Brinkley from doing any further business in the state.

The temporary restraining order froze Brinkley's assets in Mississippi, including money in a checking account and Brinkley's business records.

The significance of the poppy

By Dr. Esther Ochsmann
On Saturday little red poppies will bloom on many coats and dresses all over the Coast. So, it is well to bring to our minds the real meaning of this little flower.

Why do we have a Poppy Day?
First, we wear the poppy once a year to express the feeling of reverence that is always in our hearts for the men who died for America in three great wars.

The poppy is their flower. It grew on the battlefields in France and Belgium where so many of them fought and died. It grew over their graves.

The one touch of beauty and life in all that region of destruction and death known as the "Front."

Nothing can symbolize our remembrances of the sacrifices of the world war dead in so fitting a way as by wearing one of these poppies.

Second, we wear the poppy to help lighten the burden for those who are still undergoing suffering and hardships because of the wars—the veterans who are disabled and the families of the dead and disabled.

Making those poppies gives employment to many veterans who otherwise would be unable to earn anything towards the support of themselves or their families.

If you have never visited the men making poppies in the hospitals, it will be difficult for you to realize that having these little flowers, made by the veterans who are disabled, is one of the largest pieces of welfare and rehabilitation work done by the American Legion Auxiliary.

The funds derived from the poppy sales constitute the largest source of revenue for the rehabilitation work of the legion and auxiliary.

Poppy Day is the one day which the public is privileged to contribute towards this great work.

As the meaning of the poppy becomes more widely known and the work which is done with the proceeds of the poppy sales become better understood, more and more Americans wear the little flower each year.

The wearing of the poppy has become recognized universally, not only as a way of paying tribute to the memory of the dead but also as a means of paying tribute to the memory of all who are bearing the afflictions of the wars.

You will be seeing the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary No. 139 of Bay St. Louis along with "Little Miss Poppy" Danielle Lind, who will be selling poppies.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lind of Kiln.

When you buy your poppy, think of the disabled veterans in the hospitals or convalescent workshops who have fashioned the little blood-red flower.

Think of the many fatherless families whose struggle through the year will be lightened by the coins you drop in the poppy cans.

Think of the brave Americans who died in Flanders Field. Think of all of this and you will understand the meaning of the poppy.

The American Legion was the first national organization to adopt the poppy as its memorial flower at the national convention in Cleveland Sept. 27, 1920.

The auxiliary adopted the poppy in national convention in Kansas City, October 1921.

At the same convention, the American Legion Auxiliary pledged the profits from the sale of poppies 100 percent to the rehabilitation and to aid all veterans and their families.

Let us remember:

"In Flanders Field the poppies grow between the crosses row on row"

"That mark our place, and in the sky, the larks still singing, fly, 'Scarce heard among the guns below."

"If you break faith with us who die, we shall not sleep tho' poppies grow in Flanders Field."

REAL VIEWS ON REAL ESTATE

By Dr. Dennis Tosh

FOREIGN INVESTORS ATTRACTED TO U.S. REAL ESTATE

Q. How important is foreign investment in U.S. real estate? Is the trend for more investment continuing? D. K., Southaven

A. Dear D. K.:
Real estate in the United States, traditionally an attractive investment for foreign institutions and individuals, has captured a significant share of the foreign dollars flowing into this country.

Estimates are that in 1984 direct foreign investment was almost $17 billion, which represented more than a 15 percent increase over what was invested in 1983.

Foreign entities invest in the United States because of its political stability, economic strength, relatively open markets and well-developed financial system.

They also turn to U.S. markets because, in many cases, there are insufficient investment opportunities, particularly in prime real estate, in their home countries.

Foreign investors choose U.S. real estate over other U.S. assets for many of the same reasons that U.S. institutions enter the real estate market.

For one thing, real estate often provides an inflation hedge, which is particularly important to foreign investors who generally are more skeptical about keeping inflation under control.

Foreign investors find that less active management is required in owning U.S. real estate than in operating a U.S. business from abroad; and if the property is carefully chosen, they can easily sell U.S. real estate to an American institution later.

Foreign investors also purchase U.S. real estate to diversify their holdings in terms of both asset type and location.

Not surprisingly, the majority of foreign investors in U.S. real estate are pension funds, insurance companies and real estate companies. Nearly half of all direct investment comes from Europe.

Lack of interest shown for court jury summons

Is there something wrong with the system of jury summons in Hancock County, or just the lackadaisical way in which they are taken by persons receiving them?

Take for instance, last week 200 jury summons were mailed for the second week of May's Circuit Court term.

On Monday less than 25 per cent showed up for jury selection.

True, several summons were returned by the post office for a lack of a proper address, but that number was not 75 per cent.

State law dictates the way jury summons are issued and Hancock County uses the same system as Mississippi's other 81 counties.

Hancock County has a Jury Commission which selects potential jurors by making selections from the voter registrations.

The commission is given an estimated number of jurors needed, and using the number of qualified electors, selects a random number that comes up and then goes through the voter list.

This list of names is given to the Circuit Clerk's office which in turns draws the numbers of jury summons needed for a particular week of court.

It is very important for citizens to take jury duty as a serious matter.

Too, all qualified electors should make sure they have a correct address on their voter registration at the Circuit Court's office. Some resident's addresses have been changed from time to time by the post office.

Ignoring a jury summons can be a serious matter, and possibly some judicial action should be taken against those who ignore them.

The laws give judges the right to issue warrants for those ignoring a jury summons. A person taking a lackadaisical attitude towards a jury summons could find themselves on the wrong side of the law.

PROMOTING AGRICULTURE

I had an occasion this past week to meet with the new Secretary of Agriculture Dick Lyng. We talked about the problems with agriculture in America, but more importantly we tried to talk about their solutions.

I think farmers will reap some benefits from falling interest rates and lower petroleum costs. Farmers, however, still have a major problem in the fact that they are not getting enough return for their crops and farm products.

This is due in part to international trade inequities and by the fact that we still have an overproduction of certain crops in this country. Having identified the problems, we must look for their possible solutions.

One obvious solution is to force our allies around the world to deal with the United States on a level playing field. Our trading partners distort international agricultural markets when they continue to liberally subsidize their crops and flood the markets with their products.

We need to concentrate on pressuring our trading partners to halt some of their subsidies, and we need to be much more aggressive in promoting the export of American farm products. We are finding that some countries around the world are going to need more agricultural products, and we have the ability to provide those products for them.

In this regard, we need to concentrate on specific product areas such as poultry. Poultry is a major agricultural product in Mississippi, and I think we in Mississippi should be able to export more of our poultry around the world.

It's a fact that we are competing with our European allies and their subsidies, but if we concentrate on the proper marketing of our agricultural products, I believe we will find that there is more of a market out there than we now are taking advantage of.

As I write this column, President Reagan is enroute to Tokyo to meet with our European and Asian allies in an economic summit. While economics and trade are expected to dominate their discussions, I have urged the President to talk specifically about issues pertaining to our farmers.

Trade obviously is a part of agriculture, but I firmly believe the whole issue of agriculture should have a place on the agenda of the economic summit in order that the solutions we are discussing to the farm problem can be put forward.

I have reason to believe the President will initiate discussions on agriculture, and he will be in a strong position to be very blunt with our allies in Europe and Japan.

A subject we have been hearing a lot of talk about in recent weeks are gill netters.

Numerous people have been complaining about dead catfish washing ashore on our sand beaches in addition to sports fishermen complaining about the gill netters catching all the fish.

We have heard of one resident who collected a gill net near Bayou Cadet full of large speckle trout. The net was left unattended, and the fish were already decaying.

This is a disgrace to waste so many fish.

Our waters in Hancock County have been a 'supplemental food bank' for its residents from the time of beginning.

We realize there are commercial fishermen in the area, and have been for years on end, many follow the law all the way, yet there are a few who do not give a care.

Political leaders have to take a serious look at the gill net laws, as it appears our area is the only one where commercial fishing can be done on the residents door steps.

In addition, gill netters unnecessarily are cultivating a whole set of opponents among boaters who are inadvertently crashing into gill nets left set in local waters.

The law requires net fishermen to 'keep their nets in sight which does not require them to be close enough to warn away boaters who may be approaching the net at high speed.

The law in addition requires only that nets be marked with floats no less than 100 feet apart. Gill nets may be up to 1,200 feet long.

To the unwary boater, the twelve floats on a gill net appear to be a string of crab traps, and the boater feels safe in proceeding between them.

It seems a simple matter to solve this dilemma between boater and net fisherman, the fishermen needs only to mark his net with floating flags (as skin divers mark their area of descent) or to mark the net with floats every 100 feet in colors distinctly designed for gill nets.

The recent rains have been enjoyed by most everyone as things were getting very dry.

Our garden appears to have jumped in growth overnight since the showers, as well as others.

Lawns are also showing an improvement from the moisture.

We know our local farmers are happy with the rains, as their gardens were about to go under.

Rain fall for this year is less than half of normal for our area.

The Naval Oceanographic Office will dedicate its new Oceanographic Operations Center and library at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

The Matthew Fontaine Maury Oceanographic Library is one of the world's foremost on oceanography, and will be open to qualified researchers.

The public is invited to the ceremonies which the Bay High Band will provide music.

This building at the National Space Technology Laboratories is another tremendous asset for our area.

U.S. Congressman Trent Lott and Rear Admiral John Seesholtz, Oceanographer of the Navy are the scheduled keynote speakers.

Saturday May 17 has been designated as Poppy Day by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 139.

Miss Danielle Lind of Kiln is Miss Poppy for the Legion Auxiliary.

Members of the auxiliary will be distributing Poppies throughout the area and contributions all go towards veterans rehabilitation.

Poppies are a part of the American scene, and has been accepted as a symbol of the American Legion Auxiliary organizations across America.

Unattended gill nets present serious hazard to navigation

May 13, 1984
To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,

On May 10, after a successful day of pleasure saltwater fishing, a friend and I were on our way back inland when my boat became entangled in an unattended gill net.

While trying to free the motor propeller from the net, the boat began to take on water and subsequently capsized.

Had it not been for two bass boats in the area who saw our predicament and came to our aid more than fishing gear might have been lost.

As it was, my companion suffered a bad bump on the head when the boat capsized.

Gill nets are a hazard to navigation, equipment and lives.

It only takes one gill netter's negligence to cause a tragedy.

They also cause an unnatural depletion of the fish population whether they are game fish, food fish or fish that isn't even usable.

I urge you whether you're a fisherman, nature lover, conservationist or humanitarian to get in touch with your legislators and let them know that you think the laws concerning gill nets should be changed.

If gill netters can't be trusted to attend to their nets, then maybe they should be outlawed totally.

Let's take the steps toward safer saltwater fishing.

City's explanation of utility charge variances is outrageous

Dear Editor,

We just received our utility bill from the city. Our average monthly charge for water from June 1983 to February 1984 was $212; our April bill charges $337.

It is unlikely that our pattern of consumption could change by 341 percent in such a short period.

I called the Utility Department and talked with Mr. Kidd. Since I didn't understand his explanation I called the City Clerk, Mr. Farve.

Mr. Farve's explanation was understandable but outrageous; the city meter readers had not been doing their job correctly. They had, I was asked to believe, over a long period of time consistently read the meters incorrectly or merely estimated water consumption. This was apparently widespread.

If the city water rates bear any relation to what it actually costs to provide water and if customers were being consistently charged incorrectly, how could this go undetected for so long? There should have been very serious discrepancies between revenues and costs to provide water service. It seems reasonable to suspect that somebody in the Utilities Department would notice.

The City Council should look into this, appoint a committee, or hire an investigator to determine how our Utilities Department is managed and to conduct an audit.

The fundamental question seems to be: how could meter reader's errors go without notice by management for so long? Employees will make mistakes, but when they are so gross and extend for so long unbeknownst to management, there is something wrong with management.

Public access to Pearl River threatened

To the Editor:

Many of us who enjoy fishing on Pearl River in southwestern Hancock County were recently greeted with the possibility of the Logtown access being terminated by individuals hoping to open a campground and boat launch for private gain and profit.

Many of the people who once lived in the Logtown area hoped that one day the land would be made available for purchase.

However, when International Paper Company decided to sell their holdings at Logtown, the sale was not made public, and only certain individuals were contacted as prospective buyers.

The loss of the use of the land means a great deal to those Logtown residents who were forced off their ancestral homesites by NASA 22 years ago.

They frequently visit the area, recalling memories of the past. The area has also been used for educational field trips in which the colorful history of Logtown, once boasting the world's largest sawmill, has been taught to local students.

With the hopes of a free public park or state-owned park for this beautiful and historic area destroyed, the users of the present county road and river launch are respectfully requesting that the access remain public. It is the only available public access to the river within the buffer zone, and for many it is the single remaining link to the past.

The maintenance of this access should in no way interfere with the proposed project of the new land owners.

These individuals who would like to see the Logtown road remain open to the public should contact the county supervisors as soon as possible.

A united voice on this issue will have positive results, and many angered individuals will be able to put their hostilities to rest.

Respectfully,
Denise Wilkinson

Commagere Park concession stand obsolete

May 9, 1984

To the Editor

Sea Coast Echo

Bay St. Louis

I would like to take this opportunity to commend the Park and Playground Commissioners for the nice fence they put around the rest rooms on the Booker Street park.

Maybe this summer it will keep undesirable out when the park is closed.

Now to the real problem at the park. I and many others who have had the misfortune to work in that concession stand know what the real problem is.

With the sun in your face, you sweat from morning until night. The smell of the rest rooms is almost unbearable. It's a trip when more than two people have to work in that concession stand at one time.

I have worked there for years and nothing has been done to make it safe and sanitary.

The place is obsolete. It has got to go.

With the money and time that have been spent on that building for doors, locks, windows, plumbing and electrical work, not to mention the stock and utilities that have been stolen, we could have had a better facility.

In order to do a good job of serving the public we need it.

So everyone who knows what I am talking about, please send a message to the commissioners by letter or attending their meetings.

P.S.—By the way, where has the Board of Health been all these years?

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON— Once again, the Legislature is trotting out an attempt to do major surgery on Section 109 of the state Constitution, the rather tough conflict of interest provision that has had lawmakers squirming the past few years.

Of course, it took the Legislature 90 years to discover Section 109, and only then when the state Supreme Court came down hard on one of their fellow lawmakers for violating the ethics provision.

When the Legislature tried to dilute 109 with an amendment in 1984, the people soundly beat it.

Now, in the past month or so, Hinds County Chancery Judge James Arden Barnett has ruled four legislators, plus four local government officials in violation of 109. The impact of that, if upheld in the State Supreme Court, will be their removal from office, or if the court is lenient, giving up their outside economic interest which violates the existing Section 109.

It must be stressed at this point "existing" Section 109, because there is a chance the unwritten agenda of the latest move to revise 109 is to head off the lawsuits before they reach the Supreme Court. That is, to hand the high court a much more liberalized version of 109 to interpret rather than the very restrictive provision now in the constitution.

That could be the reason the new amendment to revamp 109 has been put on the ballot June 3, rather than in November, when the general election is held, and amendments are historically placed before the people.

There will only be scattered Congressional primaries in June, and a very light vote is expected. Some additional voter interest may be generated by another amendment on the ballot the same day to redo the property classification amendment put on the books in 1982 which came down hardest on homeowners.

The latter amendment is a story in itself, and must be told at another time. But both have a common concern for the public to be wary of the Legislature's attempt at remedial surgery. There's good reason to suspect from legislative history that the remedy is no remedy at all.

In the proposed Section 109 on the June 3 ballot, the Legislature is asking the people to trust it to implement the new ethics provision with strong legislation defining lawful conduct of public servants where their private economic interests are involved.

Section 109 that has been in the constitution since 1890 allows no conflict of interest whatsoever by a public official either "directly or indirectly."

Admittedly, that is tough language because it could be strictly interpreted to bar a legislator's wife from being a school teacher, or prevent a local school board member from serving if he is a director in a bank which receives deposits from the school district.

But the new version of 109 proposed by the Legislature permits conflicts of interest, as long as such interest does not "improperly influence" the public official or employee's official conduct.

Then it goes on to define improper influence by saying that he would have to "participate" in a subject matter in order to have a possible violation. Only then would it be a violation, the amendment says, if the person received some pecuniary benefit which did not "accrue to the public generally."

The key words on which the amendment could be either a workable solution, or a colossal loophole in the enforcement of public integrity, are "improper influence," and "participate."

This language (along with a lot of other verbiage) was put into the amendment at the very last minute by a joint conference committee in the recent legislative session after it appeared the whole proposition was "dead." It was rammed through both houses in the dying hours of the session with virtually no chance for study by either lawmakers or public interest groups.

Some lawmakers did warn that the proposal was very poorly written and lacked adequate protection for the public.

Common Cause has since come out against it, particularly on the word "participate," that it interprets to mean if a lawmaker doesn't vote on any measure from which he will personally benefit he can get himself off the hook on a serious conflict of interest.

However, at least one lawmaker, Rep. Terrill Stubbs of Mendenhall, who was on the conference committee that drafted the language, disagrees. He believes that it would prohibit a lawmaker or public body member from participating at any point in the process of approving an action if he had a vested interest.

This could mean, for instance, that it could bar any lawmaker from sitting as chairman of a committee which considered the bill in which he has a personal economic interest. If that is the case, it could eliminate the Good Ole Boy system of putting at the head of committees legislators whose personal business is deeply involved in public business.

The main question it appears voters have to decide is whether or not they trust their Legislature to see that the amendment is implemented with strong enforcement legislation.

If not, it should be back to the drawing board.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

A second sign-up period for the conservation reserve program will begin May 5 and continue through May 16. The second sign-up period is needed because not enough land was placed in the reserve in the first sign-up in March.

About 38,000 acres in Mississippi were entered in the reserve in the first sign-up, about half the state's allotment of 78,000 acres in 1986.

The maximum accepted bid for the state cropland taken out of production was $39 to $40. But farmers should not assume accepted bids will be the same in the second sign-up period.

In Hancock County no acres were placed into the conservation reserve program. More land likely will be entered in the reserve in the second sign-up because some earlier uncertainties about the program have been removed.

All qualifying criteria for the program outlined in the first sign-up remain in effect for the second sign-up.

Eligible cropland must be eroding at three times the Soil Conservation Service tolerance level to qualify. Land entered in the program can be planted in trees, grass and feed crops for wildlife.

Farmers who enter land in the program can charge for hunting rights for added income.

Farmers can sign up for the program for 1986 or 1987, depending on whether crops are currently being grown on the land. Once a bid is accepted, the farmer must meet program requirements for 10 years.

For more information about the conservation reserve program and the second sign-up period, contact the local county Extension Office, the ASCS office, the SCS office or county forester.

SUMMER BRINGS FLEAS, TICKS.
Spring outdoor activities are usually accompanied by annoying chiggers, mosquitoes, fleas and ticks. Controlling the pests prevents this nuisance and reduces the danger of pest-carried diseases.

Chiggers are also called red bugs, but are really small mites. To remove them, take a warm bath immediately. Apply an antiseptic to relieve welts, itching and prevent infection.

Mosquitoes concern us because of their ability to spread disease. Treating all breeding sites such as standing water will help control mosquitoes.

Fleas cause irritating bites on animals and people and also carry diseases. Dusting or spraying animals, bedding and other hiding places with insecticides is effective on fleas.

Ticks, annoying parasites as well as disease carriers, are often found in the same areas as chiggers. Disinfect a tick bite with antiseptic and get medication from a doctor if necessary.

Materials are available to control and repel all four pests. Read and follow label usages and precautions before using. The County Extension Office has additional information on controlling pests.

GARDEN DISEASES

Garden diseases are beginning to break out all over the county.

Currently we are having perfect climatic conditions for disease growth.

Gardeners should be especially on the lookout for early blight in tomatoes.

Plants will usually start turning brown at the bottom and eventually die.

Fruit will also be affected and show a dark sunken leathery look. I've already seen some bacterial wilt on young tomato plants.

Also, our weather has not been cooperative this year. We had hot and cold spells from March 1 until now. We are currently in a near drought situation. With the weather not cooperating we see plants that vary in height and some appear stunted.

In fighting diseases a gardener should apply a fungicide before the disease hits. If you wait until you have a problem a fungicide won't save your plants. Some good fungicides to choose from are Maneb, Zineb, Dacovil 2767, Coptan and Benlate. Fungicides must be sprayed on schedule and most give better results if applied every 7 days. As with tomatoes a fungicide should start being applied at blooming. Please be aware that fungicides are used on more vegetables than tomatoes.

If you are having problems with disease in your garden, give us a call and maybe we can help solve your problem.

GRAFTING PROGRAM

If you have always wanted to learn to graft, we have a program for you! On Saturday, May 17 at 8:30 a.m. at the County Extension Office we will have a grafting workshop. Mr. Ed Brodnax from Jackson County will present the program. The new four flap method will be demonstrated. This method is reported to be easier and more successful than other methods.

Port and Harbor Commission seeks funding for renovation of Port Bienville railroad

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission voted Monday to apply for grant and loan funds to be used for renovation of the main railroad line in Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Director James DeBlanc told the board after talking with officials at South Mississippi Planning and Development District, things "looked good" for both a Community Development Block Grant and an interest-free loan from the Department of Energy and Transportation.

The proposed cost for the project is 700,000. Of this amount only one third of the funds would be provided locally with the grant and loan providing the other monies.

DeBlanc said the existing cross-ties on the railroad line were 14 years old and the average lifetime of these was only 15 years.

He added that railroad crews had been replacing bad ties for the past several months but deterioration of the cross-ties had exceeded the rate they could be replaced by the crew.

"It is currently costing the county approximately $6,000 per month for the repairs that are necessary if the railroad is to keep running," he said.

DeBlanc also said the gross income for the railroad was $150,000 and a sharp increase in the usage and income is expected in the next couple of years.

Pass Fleet Blessing set

The Tenth Annual Blessing of the Fleet sponsored by the Pass Christian Area Chamber of Commerce is slated for Sunday, May 25 at 2 p.m. in the Pass Christian Small Craft Harbor.

Supervisor Billy McDonald and Mayor Jake Erwin are co-chairmen of the event.

A parade of all participating boats will begin at 2 p.m. with the boats leaving the harbor and circling outside where they will be judged.

Father Ron Herzog of St. Paul's Catholic Church and the Reverend Bronson Bryant of Trinity Episcopal Church will bless the boat.

Following the parade of boats, the King Fisherman and Queen of the Fleet for 1986 will be announced.

McDonald will serve as master of ceremonies.

After the ceremonies, free seafood will be served and general street dancing will follow to the music of the Shades, a local band.

Ed Alley will serve as chairman of the Seafood Committee.

The public is invited to join in the festivities.

Harbor Shop elects officers

The Board of Directors of the Harbor Shop in Pass Christian has elected Mrs. Nancy Byrne and Mrs. Alpha Lee Abanza as co-chairman. Other new officers include Mrs. Mary Case, vice president; and Mrs. Bobbie Leapley, secretary.

Re-elected are Mrs. Mary Abley, treasurer, and Mrs. Estella Drevar, assistant treasurer.

The Harbor Shop is a non-profit consignment shop. Purpose of the shop is civic improvement in the area and the profits are used for various civic endeavors.

A contribution of $600 was made recently to the Pass Christian Volunteer Fire Department.

The shop was chartered 25 years ago and in the past eight years contributions to civic improvements have exceeded $18,000.

sports, distributive education and youth legislature.

Jill Williams, journalism advisor, began the program by reporting on recent state awards Bay Journalism students had won. Winners include Caytee Carter, second place in the editorial category and Trace McRaney, first place in sports writing.

Williams also recognized Kristi Moon, school newspaper editor, for outstanding leadership. Moon also represented the staff in accepting a third place state award for school service from the Mississippi Scholastic Press Association.

Moon also reported to the board that Williams was selected as Advisor of the Year at the state awards program.

Also advisor for Bay High's coed chapter of the Young Men Christian's Association, Williams listed accomplishments of students at the recent Youth Legislature in Jackson.

Receiving certificates were Christy Bilbo, as Senate Messenger for next year's youth legislature; Caytee Carter, for outstanding leadership as president of the club and assistant floor leader of the House of Representatives; Kristy Clark, press representative; and Jennifer Cotte, best legislator in the House of Representatives.

Bay High Principal Frank Ladner presented a special award to Victor Bernond who recently placed first in district competition for auto mechanics in the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America.

Jones presented band members Craig Adam and Carl Major to the board. Both Adam and Major have represented Bay High at the Mississippi Band Clinic, in the University of Southern Mississippi's All South Honor Band and were selected as members of the Mississippi All State Lions Band.

Peggy Webb, advisor for Distributive Education Clubs of America, presented awards to numerous students.

Winning awards in DECA district competition were Tricia Evans, second place in general marketing; Denise Hopgood, first place in restaurant marketing; Vivian Crosby, first in food marketing; and John Dowden, first place in service station retailing.

Webb also listed winners at the DECA State Career Development Conference including Andrew Collins with a first place for a food marketing manual.

Other winners at state conference include Stephen Cuevas, second place for public speaking; Dowden, second place for service station retailing; Karyn Kothmann, second place for Pepsi Learn and Earn manual; Desiree Brignac, third place for civic-consciousness manual; Peggy Favre, third place for creative marketing manual; and Karen Chevis, third place for shoplifting prevention project.

Athletic Director Wilmer Seymour introduced Stace and Trace McRaney, who were presented certificates and honored as Burger King All Stars.

Trace McRaney was also recognized as a member of the Gulf Coast Chapter of the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame.

Seymour also said Jeffrey Smith will be presented a certificate in honor of his being selected to participate in the All Star baseball game in Jackson this summer.

The board also voted to advertise for an increase in the budget up to 10 percent.

Business Manager Garland Cuevas requested the board transfer some "idle funds" from inactive accounts to the operating fund.

This included $4,225 from a savings account and $6,731 from insurance claim settlements.

Cuevas said these funds had been building since 1982 and that there were no others.

In other business the board:

—Approved a recommendation by McCullough for Assistant Superintendent Robert Magee, Business Manager Garland Cuevas, Bay St. Louis City Clerk Edward Favre and Superintendent-elect Roger Oge to attend a joint conference of the Mississippi School Boards Association and the Mississippi Association of School Superintendents.

The purpose of the conference is to study finances and operations changes resulting from recent legislation. Included among the topics for discussion is the Uniform School Law, cafeteria plans, 16th Section changes, Fair Labor and Standards Act, Conflict of Interest and capital funding issues.

—Voted to employ Moore and Powell to audit the school's book-keeping functions at a fee of $10,936.

—Approved a Chapter I computer tie-in agreement between Bay St. Louis schools and Pass Christian Schools. Pass Christian will pay $1,000 for two hookups.

—Approved a recommendation for Early Childhood Coordinator James Baldree to attend a conference on the Characteristics of Effective Kindergarten.

—Took under advisement four bids for a paper copier for the Band Department at the Bay Junior High School. The bidders included Copier Company, Inc. of Long Beach, $1,195 for a Mita DC 111 Color Copier; South Mississippi Business Machines, Inc. of Gulfport, $1,495 for a Sharp SF 760; and Copy Tech Inc. of Gulfport, $1,275 for a Cano NP-150 and $1,095 for a Cannon NP-115.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

A second sign-up period for the conservation reserve program will begin May 5 and continue through May 16. The second sign-up period is needed because not enough land was placed in the reserve in the first sign-up in March.

About 38,000 acres in Mississippi were entered in the reserve in the first sign-up, about half the state's allotment of 78,000 acres in 1986. The maximum accepted bid for the state cropland taken out of production was $39 to $40. But farmers should not assume accepted bids will be the same in the second sign-up period.

In Hancock County no acres were placed into the conservation reserve program. More land likely will be entered in the reserve in the second sign-up because some earlier uncertainties about the program have been removed.

All qualifying criteria for the program outlined in the first sign-up remain in effect for the second sign-up.

Eligible cropland must be eroding at three times the Soil Conservation Service tolerance level to qualify. Land entered in the program can be planted in trees, grass and feed crops for wildlife.

Farmers who enter land in the program can charge for hunting rights for added income.

Farmers can sign up for the program for 1988 or 1987, depending on whether crops are currently being grown on the land. Once a bid is accepted, the farmer must meet program requirements for 10 years.

For more information about the conservation reserve program and the second sign-up period, contact the local county Extension Office, the ASCS office, the SCS office or county forester.

SUMMER BRINGS FLEAS, TICKS: Spring outdoor activities are usually accompanied by annoying, chiggers, mosquitoes, fleas and ticks. Controlling the pests prevents this nuisance and reduces the danger of pest-carried diseases.

Chiggers are also called red bugs, but are really small mites. To remove them, take a warm bath immediately. Apply an antiseptic to relieve welts, itching and prevent infection.

Mosquitoes concern us because of their ability to spread disease. Treating all breeding sites such as standing water will help control mosquitoes.

Fleas cause irritating bites on animals and people and also carry diseases. Dusting or spraying animals, bedding and other hiding places with insecticides is effective on fleas.

Ticks, annoying parasites as well as disease carriers, are often found in the same areas as chiggers. Disinfect a tick bite with antiseptic and get medication from a doctor if necessary.

Materials are available to control and repel all four pests. Read and follow label usages and precautions before using. The County Extension Office has additional information on controlling pests.

GARDEN DISEASES

Garden diseases are beginning to break out all over the county.

Currently we are having perfect climatic conditions for disease growth.

Gardeners should be especially on the lookout for early blight in tomatoes.

Plants will usually start turning brown at the bottom and eventually die.

Fruit will also be affected and show a dark sunken leathery look. I've already seen some bacterial wilt on young tomato plants.

Also, our weather has not been cooperative this year. We had hot and cold spells from March 1 until now. We are currently in a near drought situation. With the weather not cooperating we see plants that vary in height and some appear stunted.

In fighting diseases a gardener should apply a fungicide before the disease hits. If you wait until you have a problem a fungicide won't save your plants. Some good fungicides to choose from are Maneb, Zineb, Dacovil 2767, Coptan and Benlate. Fungicides must be sprayed on schedule and most give better results if applied every 7 days. Workshops set for small business

LONG BEACH—Two workshops—one on bad checks credit and collections, and another on various financial topics—will be offered free of charge to Mississippi Gulf Coast small business owners and operators May 22.

The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce and the University of Southern Mississippi Small Business Development Assistance Center, located at the USM-Gulf Park campus, are sponsoring the workshops as part of a national May 18-25 Small Business Week observance.

The workshops will be held simultaneously from 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the USM-Gulf Park Conference Center in Long Beach. Advance registration is requested for the limited enrollment workshops. Participants may contact the USM-Small Business Development Assistance Center at 865-4578.

Earl Pittman, recovery officer for Hancock Bank, will serve as moderator for the bad checks workshops. Speakers include Bill Williams III, president and owner of Sunbelt Consulting Corporation and Credit Bureau of Grenada, Inc.; Harrison County Sheriff Larkin Smith; and Gulfport attorney Shannon Walker.

Topics and speakers of the other workshops include: Securing Bank Financing, by Jim Outlaw of Deposit Guaranty National Bank; Banker-Business Relationships, by Carroll Kemp of Hancock Bank; and Record-keeping and Accounting, by Mary and Gene Levens, Levens Consulting.

D. L. "Chick" Anderson of the state Department of Economic Development will discuss venture capital and various programs in Mississippi through which businesses can obtain financing.

Participants in both workshops will attend an after-lunch joint session on proposed legislation pertaining to small businesses. Legislation ranging from bad checks law to liability insurance laws will be discussed by Spencer Dye, executive director of the Mississippi Retail Merchants Association.

Lunch will be available at the Gulf Park Conference Center for a cost of $5.

Junior college tuition hiked

PERKINSTON—Tuition at financially-troubled Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College will be increased if trustees approve a 1986-87 budget presented Wednesday night.

The proposal was among several money-producing plans offered to the board by GCJC President Barry L. Mellinger.

He said the "last-resort" move would bring in about $550,000 and would help cover the loss of some $2.5 million in state and local revenue.

Mellinger said tuition for full-time students would be increased from $250 to $300 a semester. Part-time students—those taking fewer than 12 hours—would be required to pay $35 a semester hour, a boost of $5.

Our-of-state tuition also would be raised.

"The proposed increases are in line with what other state-supported junior colleges are doing," Mellinger said.

"Even with the increases, our students will pay less than half of what it costs to attend a college or university in our district of Harrison, Stone and Jackson counties," he added.

To further offset its losses, Mellinger said the college has eliminated 47 positions and will reduce contracts for a number of people.

Supply, travel and equipment budgets already have been trimmed and further reductions will be made in the athletic department's budget. A hiring freeze remains in effect and salary increments to employees have been canceled.

Frank Williams to be hostage negotiator

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK.
Bay St. Louis Police Officer Frank Williams has recently completed extensive training in hostage negotiations conducted by officials at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi and the New Orleans Police Department.

Chief Ray Murphy said Williams will serve as the hostage negotiator should one be needed.

Williams will be the hostage negotiator for the Hancock County Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) team.

The SWAT team, composed of several Hancock County law enforcement officers, will attend an advanced training school during the summer.

Murphy also said local SWAT team members will undergo additional training on a regular basis.

Bay school board orders redesign of kindergarten classrooms

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Reversing themselves for the second time, the Bay St. Louis Municipal School District trustees voted Monday to reject all bids on an eight-classroom construction project.

Board Member Cyril Glover made the motion based on the "unavailability of funds."

However Glover voted against a motion to have Architect Jules Legarde redesign the building to keep the construction cost within the $300,000 range.

With Glover and Reginald Robinson voting nay and L. D. Carter and Linda Penrose voting yes, a tie resulted which board president Betty Diboll broke with a yea vote.

Legarde was given 10 days to redesign the building with input from Early Childhood Coordinator James Baldree and Superintendent-elect Roger Oge.

Legarde said he would design a building with eight classrooms, using cheapest materials but this would cost the district more money later on and not provide a kindergarten classroom that can be used properly.

Penrose quoted figures from other kindergarten classroom projects with cost of $32 to $37 per square foot.

"I do not believe we need a gold-plated school for a cost of $52.81 per square foot," she added.

She also questioned Legarde, why if other could design classrooms at lower prices, why couldn't he.

The board had originally rejected the project but later rescinded that motion to accept the low bid from Tilley Contractors and Engineers of Gulfport for a total of $409,000.

Also during the meeting the board approved the resignation of Bennett, Angela Marie, and Terry Spruill Brown, kindergarten teachers.

The board also held a special meeting for Wednesday to discuss funding for the kindergarten project.

At this meeting the board is scheduled to review four funding options by Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor Frankiewicz.

Frankiewicz said Tuesday he believed the best option included borrowing additional money for the classrooms, school buses and refinancing existing debts.

According to Frankiewicz's figures the total payback for this option which included an assumed 10 percent savings due to redesign of the classrooms.

Workshops set for small business

LONG BEACH—Two workshops—one on bad checks credit and collections, and another on various financial topics—will be offered free of charge to Mississippi Gulf Coast small business owners and operators May 22.

The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce and the University of Southern Mississippi Small Business Development Assistance Center, located at the USM-Gulf Park campus, are sponsoring the workshops as part of a national May 18-25 Small Business Week observance.

The workshops will be held simultaneously from 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the USM-Gulf Park Conference Center in Long Beach. Advance registration is requested for the limited enrollment workshops. Participants may contact the USM-Small Business Development Assistance Center at 865-4578.

Earl Pittman, recovery officer for Hancock Bank, will serve as moderator for the bad checks workshops. Speakers include Bill Williams III, president and owner of Sunbelt Consulting Corporation and Credit Bureau of Grenada, Inc.; Harrison County Sheriff Larkin Smith; and Gulfport attorney Shannon Walker.

Topics and speakers of the other workshops include: Securing Bank Financing, by Jim Outlaw of Deposit Guaranty National Bank; Banker-Business Relationships, by Carroll Kemp of Hancock Bank; and Record-keeping and Accounting, by Mary and Gene Levens, Levens Consulting.

D. L. "Chick" Anderson of the state Department of Economic Development will discuss venture capital and various programs in Mississippi through which businesses can obtain financing.

Participants in both workshops will attend an after-lunch joint session on proposed legislation pertaining to small businesses. Legislation ranging from bad checks law to liability insurance laws will be discussed by Spencer Dye, executive director of the Mississippi Retail Merchants Association.

Lunch will be available at the Gulf Park Conference Center for a cost of $5.

Frank Williams to be hostage negotiator

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK.
Bay St. Louis Police Officer Frank Williams has recently completed extensive training in hostage negotiations conducted by officials at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi and the New Orleans Police Department.

Chief Ray Murphy said Williams will serve as the hostage negotiator should one be needed.

Williams will be the hostage negotiator for the Hancock County Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) team.

The SWAT team, composed of several Hancock County law enforcement officers, will attend an advanced training school during the summer.

Murphy also said local SWAT team members will undergo additional training on a regular basis.

Bay school board orders redesign of kindergarten classrooms

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Reversing themselves for the second time, the Bay St. Louis Municipal School District trustees voted Monday to reject all bids on an eight-classroom construction project.

Board Member Cyril Glover made the motion based on the "unavailability of funds."

However Glover voted against a motion to have Architect Jules Legarde redesign the building to keep the construction cost within the $300,000 range.

With Glover and Reginald Robinson voting nay and L. D. Carter and Linda Penrose voting yes, a tie resulted which board president Betty Diboll broke with a yea vote.

Legarde was given 10 days to redesign the building with input from Early Childhood Coordinator James Baldree and Superintendent-elect Roger Oge.

Legarde said he would design a building with eight classrooms, using cheapest materials but this would cost the district more money later on and not provide a kindergarten classroom that can be used properly.

Penrose quoted figures from other kindergarten classroom projects with cost of $32 to $37 per square foot.

"I do not believe we need a gold-plated school for a cost of $52.81 per square foot," she added.

She also questioned Legarde, why if other could design classrooms at lower prices, why couldn't he.

The board had originally rejected the project but later rescinded that motion to accept the low bid from Tilley Contractors and Engineers of Gulfport for a total of $409,000.

Also during the meeting the board approved Chairman Bennett, Angela Mays, and Jerry Spruill Brown, and Lana Andrews as kindergarten teachers.

The board also held a special meeting for Wednesday to discuss funding for the kindergarten project.

ject.

At this meeting the board is scheduled to review four funding options by Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor Frankiewicz.

Frankiewicz said Tuesday he believed the best option included borrowing additional money for the classrooms, school buses and refinancing existing debts.

According to Frankiewicz's figures the total payback for this option which included an assumed 10 percent savings due to redesign of the classrooms.

Jackson State commencement set

Jackson State University will hold its 109th Spring Commencement Exercises and Alumni Day activities on Saturday, May 10.

Commencement Exercises will be held at 10 a.m. in the Lee E. Williams Athletics and Assembly Center on the JSU campus.

Degrees will be awarded to a total of 641 graduates during the ceremony, including 468 baccalaureate degrees, 141 masters, 29 specialists in education, and three doctor of education degrees. The degrees will be conferred by JSU President Dr. James A. Hefner.

Marguerite Ross Barnett, Ph.D., chancellor-elect of the University of Missouri-St. Louis, will deliver the address. Barnett is currently vice chancellor for academic affairs at the City University of New York. She is responsible for academic planning, policy and development in the 21 schools and colleges in the CUNY system.

Barnett, who holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Antioch College, received her master's and doctoral degrees in political science from the University of Chicago. She has taught political science at Princeton University, directed the Institute for Urban and Minority Education at Columbia University, and has taught and chaired the political science department at Howard University.

She is a member of the board of directors and executive committee of the Overseas Development Council; the advisory committee of the Rockefeller Foundation's Minority Faculty Fellowship Program; the board of directors of the Public Education Association; the executive committee of the Joint Council of Chief Academic Officers, and the American Council on Education.

A political scholar, Barnett has written or edited four books and over 40 articles on such topics as the politics of south India, black capitalism, public policy for U.S. blacks, and the Congressional Black Caucus.

Barnett has received numerous awards, citations and fellowships for her distinguished research and scholarship.

Citations will be awarded to two retiring faculty members, Princess J. Gwynn, instructor of English, and Dr. Percy Gambrell, associate professor of social science education and geography.

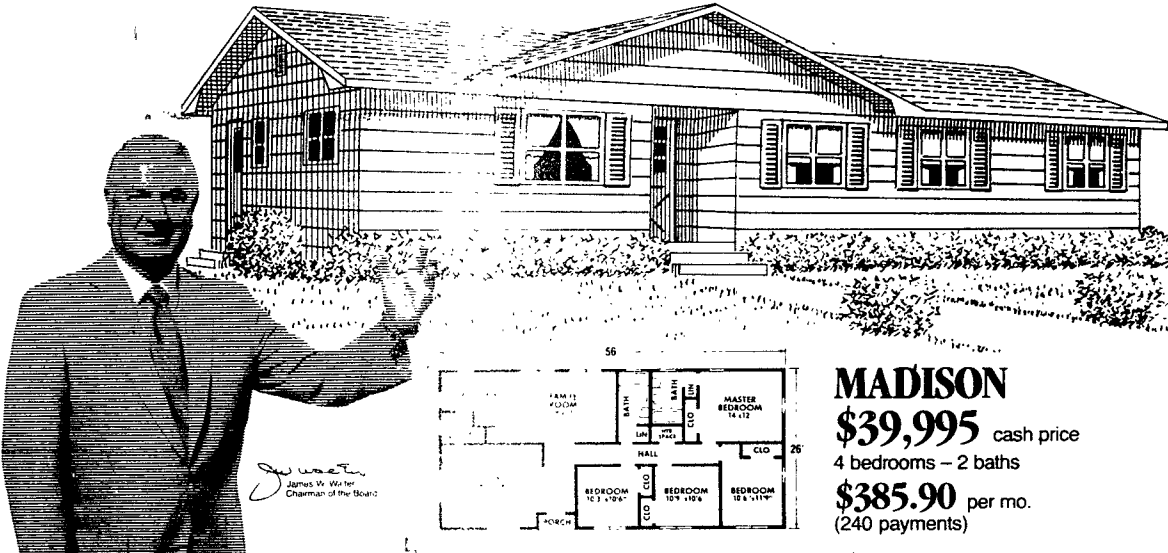

Members of the Class of 1936 will receive Golden Diplomas commemorating the 50th anniversary of their graduation from Jackson State. The Golden Diploma recipients are Miss Annie L. Billingslea, Jackson; Mrs. Lillie B. Young players bring promise of bright future for Coast Episcopal High Tennis Team

Story and Photos by Margaret Boyce

Dedicated coaches are the key to Coast Episcopal High School's 3-2 winning season.

Both Coach Lambert Boyd of Bay St. Louis and Coach Mary Anna Underwood of Pass Christian volunteer their time and expertise to the CEHS Tennis Team.

Coach Boyd has headed the tennis team for more than 20 years. This year the strength of the boys' team has come not from returning players but from young new players — Chris Riggs, Duncan Matheson and David Williams.

Coach Underwood who plays tennis competitively in Mississippi made the girls' team selections last fall. Ever since then, she has worked with the nine girls four afternoons a week at her own home tennis court.

Seven out of the nine girls are returning players. Last year Christine Merrick and Susannah Shellnut won the No. 2 girls doubles state championship in the Class A Division of the Mississippi Private Schools Association.

The parents of the team members are also involved. For example, Jim and Wanda Williams from Ocean Springs drove the 15-passenger school van to out of town matches.

Another parent, Sandra Shellnut of Pass Christian, headed a Booster Club project in which CES students sold wrapping paper. Profits earned helped fund resurfacing of the tennis court at the high school as well as new play equipment for the elementary school.

Seven Coast Episcopal High School tennis players qualified to play in the State Tournament May 8 and 9 in Jackson.

They were Duncan Matheson and Chris Riggs, number two boys doubles; Sandi Carter, number one girls singles; Caroline Carter and Ellie Merrick, number one girls doubles; and Christine Merrick and Susannah Shellnut, number two girls doubles.

Duncan Matheson and Chris Riggs played the number two boys doubles from Delta Academy in Quitman. They lost 7-5, 6-2.

Sandi Carter first played Karon White from Delta Academy. Carter won 6-4, 6-4. For the finals Carter lost 6-0, 6-0 to Katherine Smart from Wilkinson County Christian Academy in Woodville.

Seniors Caroline Carter and Ellie Merrick lost 6-2, 6-3 to number one girls' doubles Neil Johnson and Tara Eubanks from Tunica Institute of Learning in Tunica.

Sophomores Christine Merrick and Susannah Shellnut won 6-1, 6-0 against Tonya Holcombe and Beth Bouchellion from Delta Academy. For the finals they played Sara Smart and Becky Tomilson from Wilkinson. CEHS Merrick and Shellnut lost 6-2, 3-6, and 6-2.

As runners up in the Private School A Division, three Coast Episcopal Players had the opportunity to continue playing in the overall state tournament: Sandi Carter in Girls' singles and Christine Merrick and Susannah Shellnut in girls' doubles. They all lost in their first round.

Mississippi Coast Coliseum to host its first rodeo

Officials of Rex Distributing, Circle D Rodeo and the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Commission announce that the first Budweiser Super Pro Rodeo will be held in Biloxi at the Coliseum, August 1, 2, and 3, 1988.

This event, which is the first professional rodeo ever held at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum will attract over 250 cowboys and cowgirls from across the United States and Canada during the three day competition.

This rodeo is one of 600 to be held across the United States, and is sanctioned by the PRCA (Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association) and WPRA (Women's Professional Rodeo Association).

"We are pleased to be able to bring the community an event of this caliber. The Budweiser Super Pro Rodeo is an event that will provide children of all ages with good, wholesome entertainment," said Bill Holmes, executive director of the Mississippi Coast Coliseum & Convention Center.

The producer of this first time event for the Coliseum is Circle D Rodeo, one of the nation's leading stock contractors and produces rodeos of this kind all over the east and southeast.

"We are proud that our company will be able to produce the first rodeo ever held at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum in Biloxi. We think the people of the Gulf Coast will find that a rodeo is truly family entertainment at its best," said Matt Dryden, president of Circle D Rodeo Company.

The event is sponsored locally by Rex Distributing Company, the Gulf Coast's Anheuser-Busch distributor.

"We're really excited about working with Circle D to bring this professional rodeo to our area. We have worked with this company for over three years now, and are familiar with their first class organization. Circle D has the finest stock, equipment, personnel and cowboys found anywhere," said Glen Cothern, vice-president and general manager of Rex Distributing Company.

The cowboys will compete in a variety of events during the three day rodeo, such as: bullriding, barrel racing, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding and calf roping. Cowgirls will showcase their skills in the barrel race competition. Rodeo clowns, such as Rick Young, the "Ragin' Cajun" from Louisiana, will perform specialty acts and serve as lifeguards for the cowboys.

Each year, these professional cowboys and cowgirls travel all over the United States, competing in as many as 600 possible rodeos. Each time they win a competition, they obtain points which accrue all year long. Those entrants with the most number of points, qualify to enter the nationals, held in Las Vegas this year.

Entrants participating in the competition in Biloxi will be announced at a later date.

STATE TITLE—Shane Fielder, left, and Mark Gonzales of Bay High took second place in boys doubles in the recent state high school tennis championships in Jackson.

TANYA FAYARD of Bay High School won first place in the two-mile run of the Deep South Conference.

When going on a picnic, put hot dogs in a wide-mouthed thermos and fill with boiling water. They will be ready to eat by the time you reach your spot.

Take-One-Video finishes 2-0-1 in state playoffs

Coach Bernard Tusa's soccer team, the "FIREBALLS" made one of the better efforts ever for Bays soccer in recent Jackson state playoffs.

In the first game Saturday morning, the Fireballs were trailing by two goals before they were awakened. They came back to score three unanswered goals to defeat Greenville 3-2 for their first victory.

On Saturday afternoon the Fireballs scored in the opening minutes and played a terrific defense by defeating Brandon 2-0. Going into Sunday morning's game, Take-One-Video and Tupelo were both undefeated with 2-0 records. This game would decide the bracket winner and the rights to play Sunday afternoon for the State Championship.

The game was a very hard fought defensive battle ending in a 0-0 tie.

Hancock Heart sponsoring golf tournament

Hancock County Heart Association is sponsoring a benefit golf tournament at Diamondhead on May 30.

The format is a two person, best ball. Anyone with an established handicap can play. Prizes include two nights and three days in leading hotels on the Gulf Coast and New Orleans, a Ford Mustang for a hole-in-one, and a two-day fishing trip to Chandeleur Islands with transportation, food and lodging furnished, plus door prizes.

The $50 entry fee includes green fee, 1/2 cart fee, food and beverages along course and at lawn party following play.

Applications available at Diamondhead Pro Shop, Charles H. Johnson, Inc., 648 US 90 East, Waveland, or call Ben Doss at 255-1686 to have one mailed.

First Flight: Dawn Schutt, low net.

Second Flight: Linda Lacour, low gross; Dot Sierveld, low net.

Third Flight: Laura Almerico, low net; Eleanor Stansbury, low gross.

Jan Venator birdied number 6 Pine on April 1.

When the game ended in a tie, Tupelo and Take-One-Video had identical records of 2-0-1.

That's when the tie breaker went into effect. Tupelo had given up less goals than the Fireballs the day before so Tupelo was awarded the bracket winner and advanced to the Championship game.

Coach Tusa said this was a hard defeat for him, the team and their parents. He had to tell the players after the game, even though they did not lose a game all year, that they were eliminated because of a goal that we had given up the day before.

He said, he wishes that the Mississippi State Soccer Association would look into a different type of the breaker system. He thought the game should have gone into an overtime period or a shoot-out, then if they had lost, he could have understood. "Maybe the State Association would understand if they had to look at my players after the game," he said.

Coach Tusa said that this was a great team that he coached. The Fireballs finished the regular season, District, and state playoffs undefeated, which is a great accomplishment.

He congratulated his entire team for a great season: Greg Ellis, John Hobson, Charles Oliver, David Helzmann, Jeff Hoppood, Kevin Watts, Brooks Quinlan, Scott Cuevas, M. J. Krankey, Andy Kimball, John Wilson, Les Fillingame, Chad Patton, Chris Green and Matthew Tusa.

He also thanked team parents for their support in making this season a big success.

Take-One-Video finishes 2-0-1 in state playoffs

Coach Bernard Tusa's soccer team, the "FIREBALLS" made one of the better efforts ever for Bays soccer in recent Jackson state playoffs.

In the first game Saturday morning, the Fireballs were trailing by two goals before they were awakened. They came back to score three unanswered goals to defeat Greenville 3-2 for their first victory.

On Saturday afternoon the Fireballs scored in the opening minutes and played a terrific defense by defeating Brandon 2-0.

Going into Sunday morning's game, Take-One-Video and Tupelo were both undefeated with 2-0 records. This game would decide the bracket winner and the rights to play Sunday afternoon for the State Championship.

The game was a very hard fought defensive battle ending in a 0-0 tie.

Hancock Heart sponsoring golf tournament

Hancock County Heart Association is sponsoring a benefit golf tournament at Diamondhead on May 30.

The format is a two person, best ball. Anyone with an established handicap can play. Prizes include two nights and three days in leading hotels on the Gulf Coast and New Orleans, a Ford Mustang for a hole-in-one, and a two-day fishing trip to Chandeleur Islands with transportation, food and lodging furnished, plus door prizes.

The $50 entry fee includes green fee, 1/2 cart fee, food and beverages along course and at lawn party following play.

Applications available at Diamondhead Pro Shop, Charles H. Johnson, Inc., 648 US 90 East, Waveland, or call Ben Doss at 255-1686 to have one mailed.

The United States imports more oil from Mexico than from any other country.

When the game ended in a tie, Tupelo and Take-One-Video had identical records of 2-0-1.

That's when the tie breaker went into effect. Tupelo had given up less goals than the Fireballs the day before so Tupelo was awarded the bracket winner and advanced to the Championship game.

Coach Tusa said this was a hard defeat for him, the team and their parents. He had to tell the players after the game, even though they did not lose a game all year, that we were eliminated because of a goal that we had given up the day before.

He said, he wishes that the Mississippi State Soccer Association would look into a different type of tie breaker system. He thought the game should have gone into an overtime period or a shoot-out, then if they had lost, he could have understood. "Maybe the State Association would understand if they had to look at my players after the game," he said.

Coach Tusa said that this was a great team that he coached. The Fireballs finished the regular season, District, and State playoffs undefeated, which is a great accomplishment.

He congratulated his entire team for a great season: Greg Ellis, John Hobson, Charles Oliver, David Heitzmann, Jeff Hopgood, Kevin Watts, Brooks Quinlan, Scott Cuevas, M. J. Krankey, Andy Kimbrall, John Wilson, Les Fillingame, Chad Patton, Chris Green and Matthew Tusa.

He also thanked team parents for their support in making this season a big success.

River commencement scheduled Sunday

Pearl River College will officially end its 1983 school year with formal graduation exercises for the college's 76th class in Poplarville Sunday at 6 p.m. in the Marvin R. White Coliseum.

Although the actual number of students receiving associate degrees or certificates of proficiency will not be known until final grades are posted at 3 p.m. Friday, there are 383 students who have applied for graduation.

The college's Associate Degree

Nurses' Pinning Ceremony will be held at 7 p.m. Friday in Moody Hall Auditorium.

Dr. Aubrey Keith Lucas, president of the University of Southern Mississippi, will be guest speaker at Sunday's commencement. Dr. Marvin R. White, retiring president of Pearl River College, will present the diplomas and certificates of proficiency.

Friends and relatives of the graduates are invited to attend the commencement exercises.

WRITER AWARD— Miss Caytee Carter, Bay High senior, has been chosen by the Mississippi Women's Press Association as second place winner for Best Feature Editorial. She was recognized by the association at a recent banquet in Jackson. She is an assistant editor of the Bay High 'Student Prints.'

PRIVATE Benjamin Y. Reyes Jr., son of Charlene R. Reyes of Bay St. Louis and Benjamin Y. Reyes Sr. of New Orleans, La., is on leave after graduating from engineering training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Reyes is a 1985 graduate of Bay Senior High School. He will be reporting to Frankfurt, Germany later this month.

SCHOLARSHIP— Kristin Ling, a student at The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga and resident of Waveland, has been selected as a 1986 Harry S. Truman Scholar, according to the Board of Trustees of the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation. Ling is the daughter of Edwin Roger Ling Sr. and Ingrid June Ling. The Truman Scholarship is awarded on a merit basis each year to college students who show potential for leadership, academic ability, and an outstanding potential for a career in government. This congressionally authorized federal memorial to Harry S. Truman carries a maximum annual award of up to $5,000 to cover tuition, fees, books, room and board.

Regional VI Science Fair winners listed

HATTIESBURG— A number of Hancock County students were winners in the annual Region VI Science and Engineering Fair held during April at the Gulf Coast Coliseum in Biloxi.

Sponsored by the University of Southern Mississippi, the Mississippi Science Teachers Association, the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium and the Naval Oceanographic Research and Development Activity, the fair featured student projects from six South Mississippi counties. It included more than 700 high school projects and 800 elementary projects.

First through sixth-place winners in the fair also were eligible to compete in the state fair at Jackson State University later in April.

Winners from Hancock County included: Mallaca Strom of Bay St. Louis Junior High, first place in class 2 math, computers, earth and space; Relah Strom of Waveland Elementary, first place in class 1 zoology, medicine and health.

Also, Gerrett Carver of North Bay Elementary, second place in class 2 behavioral and social; Chad Allison of North Bay Elementary, honorable mention in class 1 botany and microbiology; Danielle Perkins of Waveland Elementary, honorable mention in class 1 zoology, medicine and health; Steven Sones of Waveland Elementary, honorable mention in class 2 zoology, medicine and health;

Kimberly Delcuze of Bay Senior High School, second place in class 4 engineering; John Dowden of Bay Senior High, third place in class 4 engineering; Patricia Evans of Bay Senior High, third place in class 4 behavioral and social; Holli Decamp of Bay Junior High, fourth place in class 3 microbiology; Lori Zeringue of Our Lady Academy, fourth place in class 4 behavioral and social.

And, Brandi Angell of Our Lady Academy, fifth place in class 3 engineering; Jonathan Culley of Bay Junior High, fifth place in class 3 environmental science; Kimberly Trowbridge of Our Lady Academy, fifth place in class 4 behavioral and social; Bridget Baum of Bay Senior High, honorable mention in class 5 environmental science; David Culley of Bay Junior High, honorable mention in class 3 environmental science.

Monique LeBourgeois of Our Lady Academy, honorable mention in class 5 chemistry and biochemistry; Alison Miller of Our Lady Academy, honorable mention in class 4 botany; Regina Parker of Bay Senior High, honorable mention in class 4 microbiology; Devin Rose of Bay Senior High, honorable mention in class 4 chemistry and biochemistry; and Dana Wheeler of Bay Senior High, honorable mention in class 5 physics.

Xavier lists competition winners

Two Bay St. Louis student science scholars were among the top award winners at the eighth annual Math-Science Olympiad held at Xavier University of Louisiana.

Honored were David Bourgeois and Edward Payne, both students at St. Stanislaus High School.

More than 600 students from 51 high schools in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama competed both as individuals and in four-member teams in the day-long program of academic testing.

Exams, based on college instruction, were administered in biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics.

Bourgeois earned an honorable mention in both the biology and overall individual competition, while Payne won a third-place medal in biology.

They teamed up with Robert Maynard and Joel Thames to help St. Stanislaus gain an honorable mention in the team competition.

These men attended the commencement exercises of the St. Stanislaus class of 1936 and received a commemorative diploma at the ceremony. They were honored at a special banquet the same day on the St. Stanislaus campus.

Kramer, McDonald cited by MGCJC

Lori Jean Hutzler of Biloxi has been named Best Citizen at the Jefferson Davis Campus of Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College.

The 19-year-old sophomore was among students whose achievements were recognized at a recent Awards Day.

Winning the coveted Wayne Scarborough Memorial Award in law enforcement was Donald B. Pope of Gautier, executive director of District 8 of the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Other award winners include Marie Kramer of Pass Christian, data processing; and Melissa McDonald of Bay St. Louis, fashion merchandising.

NURSING STUDENTS— More than 100 School of Nursing seniors received their school's pin from Dr. Edrie J. George, nursing school dean, during ceremonies at the University of Mississippi Medical Center. Among them were from second left, Kimberly Moore of Long Beach,

YOUNG ACTOR—John Barret O'Neill, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Hartel of Waveland, played the role of Bert in the Loyola University Theatre production of Arthur Miller's Pulitzer Prize-winning play "All My Sons." John is a sixth-grade Alpha student at St. Stanislaus. He also appeared in the 1985 Loyola production of "Black Medea," by the Rev. Ernest Ferlita, S.J. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick O'Neill of New Orleans and Waveland. "All My Sons" was directed by John's mother, Rosary O'Neill, who is associate professor of drama at Loyola.

New president to address MSU commencement

Dr. Donald W. Zacharias will be inaugurated as Mississippi State University's 15th president May 16 as part of 1988 spring commencement exercises at Humphrey Coliseum.

Zacharias will deliver the commencement-inaugural address to approximately 2,260 graduating students at the 3 p.m. ceremony.

Twenty-four Army and seven Air Force ROTC senior cadets will also be commissioned second lieutenants during the program.

A reception for MSU graduates and their families will be held from 1:30-2:15 p.m. in the university cafeteria. President and Mrs. Zacharias will serve as hosts.

An inaugural reception for visiting dignitaries and faculty will take place from 10-11 a.m. in the foyer of the Dean W. Colvard Union.

Zacharias became president and professor of communication at MSU last August. For six years prior to that, he served as president of Western Kentucky University at Bowling Green.

The Salem, Ind., native received his bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, from Georgetown (Kentucky) college and his master's and doctoral degrees from Indiana University.

Zacharias began his career in higher education in 1959 as a teaching assistant at Indiana, progressing to the rank of assistant professor in 1965.

In 1969, he joined the faculty of the University of Texas' main campus at Austin as an associate professor. Four years later, he achieved the rank of full professor.

At both Indiana and Texas, Zacharias received teaching awards from his students and colleagues.

In 1974—five years after joining the Texas faculty—he became assistant to the president of the university. In 1978, he was named executive assistant to the chancellor of the UT System, which then included 14 campuses; a total enrollment of 110,000 students; a faculty, technical and support staff of 50,000; and a budget of more than $1 billion.

Among his many honors and awards is an honorary doctor of laws degree from his alma mater, Georgetown College, for distinguished contributions to university administration.

Summer camp schedule listed

The welcome mat is being rolled out for thousands of Mid-South youngsters who will attend a variety of summer youth programs at The University of Mississippi this summer.

The special-interest youth camps will be coordinated by the University's Division of Continuing Education and are designed to sharpen scholastic skills, develop sports competency, and enrich leisure time for participants.

Two new camps have been added to the schedule. The University Dance Camp for precision dance teams and pompon squads will be held July 6-10, with choreography and routines led by award-winning instructors. The Mississippi Piano Camp, formerly held at Hinds Junior College, has found a new home on the Ole Miss campus and will provide expert instruction for 70 talented mid-south musicians in grades 7 through 12. Piano Camp is scheduled July 6-12.

Two Computer Camps will be held this year—the first June 22-27 and the second July 6-11—for ages 10 through 1987 high school seniors.

Other annually scheduled camps are as follows:

Scheduled for June 1-5 are Golf Camp I for ages 10-1987 high school seniors and Tennis Camp I for ages 9-1987 high school seniors.

Set for June 8-12 are Baseball Camp I for ages 10-1987 seniors; Football Camp for 5th-11th grades during 1985-86; Golf Camp II, ages 10-1987 seniors; Tennis Camp II, ages 9-1987 seniors; and Lady Rebels Basketball Camps, ages 10-1987 seniors.

Slated for June 15-19 are Baseball Camp II, ages 10-1987 seniors.

Additional information about registration for any of these camps may be obtained by writing or calling the Division of Continuing Education, The University of Mississippi, University, MS 38677, telephone (601) 232-7034.

LIONS ALL-STATE BAND— Two Bay High Band members, trombonist Craig Adam, left, and drummer Carl Major have earned positions in the prestigious 1986 Lions All-State Band. The students were selected for the band as a result of two intensive tryouts held in Jackson with competition from high school musicians from throughout Mississippi. The All-State Band is sponsored and funded by statewide Lions Clubs of Mississippi, and the band travels worldwide each summer to wherever the Lions International Convention is held. This summer's convention will be in New Orleans. The band will train for a week at Pearl River Junior College and perform in concerts, parades, and lobby shows in New Orleans during the second week of the tour.

HAAS INITIATED— Jennifer Haas of Bay St. Louis, right, and Patricia Hammett of Gulfport, left, recently were initiated into the Delta Delta Delta sorority at the University of Southern Mississippi. Haas is a sophomore who currently is working on general studies to complete her degree. A graduate from Our Lady's Academy in Bay St. Louis, she currently is an active member of the Newman Club and FCA at Southern. In high school, Haas received the Chamber of Commerce Service Award, the Dick Koshab Service Award and the Home Economics Award.

FIRST PLACE— Kim Feigel, right, 8, and Kerrie Feigel, 3, show trophies won in Elaine's School of Gymnastics recent competition. They are daughters of Charles and Lindsey Feigel of US-90 West, Waveland.

BACKACHE
Research studies reveal certain clues which are signs of impending back problems. 1. carrying your head to one side. 2. a low shoulder. 3. a tilted hip. 4. pain at the base of your head or in the hips all indicate signals of developing spinal problems. These are clues that the bone framework of the spine is being twisted out of shape, leading first to a weak spine, inviting more serious complications. Weak spines are subject to serious spinal displacements which can pinch nerves and lead to internal damage. Chiropractic care enjoys a wide reputation in the correction of spinal structural problems. If your back aches, call your doctor of Chiropractic and prevent serious complications.

"Dead is Dead," a graphic film on the effects of drug abuse, was shown recently to Bay High School Students as part of a drug abuse program presented by Dr. Gary Wiley from CADA (Committee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse), a United Way Agency in New Orleans.

According to Dr. Wiley, this film realistically shows to students how drugs adversely affect a person's life.

"Abuse," says Wiley, "is the key word. Abuse is whatever amount affects a person's life adversely - academically, economically, socially, spiritually and emotionally."

"Youngsters today may be exposed to drugs as early as the first or second grade," says Wiley. "Alcohol abuse is still number one with marijuana and cocaine following closely behind."

CADA, a non-profit organization, is a referral agency for other teen problems and has received more than 75,000 phone calls for help since its formation 26 years ago by director Ashton Brisolara of Waveland.

The agency staff is composed of educators, psychologists, guidance counselors and recovering alcoholics.

Wiley recommends the agency's service of speaking at PTO and teachers' meetings to make parents and teachers aware of the warning signs of alcohol and drug abuse. He states, "If we help one person, it's worth all our effort."

Frank Ladner, principal at Bay High, is planning another CADA drug abuse program next fall with students, parents and concerned citizens invited.

Brisolara will be guest speaker.

DOCTOR M.J. WOLFE SR., center, a 1923 graduate of St. Stanislaus College, was honored by the student body of St. Stanislaus on the occasion of his retirement in May as the school's physician after 53 years of service. Fred Endom, left, president of the SSC student body, made the presentation along with Brother Aquin Gauthier, director of public relations at St. Stanislaus. Dr. Wolfe has been the school physician at St. Stanislaus since 1933. (SSC Photo)

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, until 10:00 a.m. May 22, 1986, for providing for by District Five one heavy duty hydraulic articulated boom mower to cut vegetation, brush, saplings and all other trees with the following specifications:

FRAME AND TANK: Frame shall be heavy duty saddle mount construction, excluding any frame mountings. The frame shall be designed so that all the hydraulic oil should be required to maintain oil temperatures below 75 degrees + ambient temperature. Example: If ambient temperature is 65 degrees then (65 degrees + 75 degrees = 140 degrees) oil temperature shall not exceed 140 degrees Fahrenheit. Minimum of 55 gallons of oil in system.

HYDRAULIC SYSTEM: Hydraulic system must be completely separate from tractor system and must be equipped with a hydraulic pump and motor, and to eliminate potential damage to the tractor's transmission. Hydraulic pump must be two stage with direct drive to tractor engine. One pump section shall drive the cutter head. It shall be rated GPM 200 PSI and be turned at 2400 RPM. The second pump section shall be rated 12 GPM at 1800 PSI when turned at 2400 RPM. Hydraulic hoses must be enclosed within the boom the entire length of boom with 3" hose sections connecting the head.

CUTTER HEAD ARM: Cutting with 60" minimum. Equipped with full length shaft shoes. Spindle for cutter head is 5/8" in diameter with 2" minimum at any point on spindle. Spindle is mounted in double tapered roller bearings.

DRIVE COUPLED MOTOR SPINDLE ASSEMBLY: Specifically excluding chain coupler.

CUTTING ASSEMBLY: shall have minimum reach of 29'.

CUTTING ASSEMBLY: shall have a minimum of 6" of tractors rear wheel.

BOOM'S HORIZONTAL PIVOT PIN: must be 3" minimum diameter and mounted in double tapered roller bearing.

CUTTER HEAD POSITION: Articulated boom assembly must be designed to allow the cutter head to operate in a full 120 degrees in a horizontal plane. Transport position of the boom shall be behind the tractor and must be contained within the width of the tractor.

CUTTER HEAD CONTROL VALVE: Incorporated with starlock and safety switch that prevents tractor from being started with cutter head valve engaged.

OPERATOR PROTECTION: Expanded metal cage on right side and top of operator position.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Published by order of the Board of Supervisors dated this 5th day of May 1986.

Japanese paintings of Edo Period at New Orleans Museum of Art

Paintings from the Japanese Edo Period which depict a variety of animals will be on view through June 30 at New Orleans Museum of Art.

The in-house exhibition was hung by Dr. Donald A. Wood, NOMA's new curator of Oriental Art, who discovered 12th century Buddhist texts in the relic chamber of a Chinese statue recently donated to the museum by Jun Tsei Tai of New York City.

The Edo Period paintings represent tales of animals which form a part of Japan's earliest cultural heritage. For example, cocks, serpents, and bears play significant roles in Japanese creation myths, while deer, monkeys and various fowl appear among the haniwa and tomb paintings of the Kofun Period circa 250-552 A.D.

The workshop of deified spirits in native Shinto beliefs and the sacred nature of all life forms within Buddhist practice have combined to forge a deep-rooted respect for and fascination with the animal kingdom in Japan.

The antics of monkeys were much appreciated as street entertainment during the Edo Period. The NOMA painting of two monkeys frolicking in an autumn maple tree by Mori Sosen (1749-1821), is characterized by a true sense of purpose and personality.

Clouds of fur outline detailed faces and paws, giving structure and weight to the figures. The soft, tactile quality of the monkeys is in marked contrast to the bold brushwork of the tree.

The fox also enjoyed wide popularity as an artistic subject in Japan. The NOMA painting of a fox disguised as a priest by Kishi Chikudo (1826-1897 A.D.) is indicative of the cunning and artifice associated with this animal in Japanese folklore.

Dr. James A. Hefner, president of Jackson State University and a renowned authority on minority economic issues, served as keynote speaker for the USM awards ceremony.

Bay St. Louis students and the honors they received include:

Jonathan Cross Campbell was inducted into the Phi Kappa Phi scholastic honor society. Donald Collins Diboll was inducted into Phi Kappa Phi and the Order of Omega Greek leadership honor society, and was presented the Department of Athletic Administration and Coaching Academic Achievement Award.

Donor identity sought by fund

Contributions have been received by the Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship Fund without identification of the donor, according to fund secretary Mary Lee Lagarde.

Persons making a contribution are asked to follow these directions:

1. Contributions may be made at any Hancock Bank Branch to the Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship Fund.

2. When you have received your receipt from the teller, please put your name and address on the receipt and return to the teller. The Bank will mail these receipts to the secretary of the fund. After identification of the donor has been made, receipts will be returned if requested.

MONICA THOMAS of Biloxi, a student at Loyola University, has received the Spirit of Loyola Award for Racial Understanding. Thomas, who has served in various capacities in Loyola Campus Ministry and the university's residence halls, was honored for her "significant contributions to racial understanding on the Loyola campus and for fostering racial harmony and awareness of the community."

Since at least the Heian Period, the fox has been the subject of numerous tales concerning the mischievous delight this animal takes in sporting with the gullible nature of man.

Other animals presented in this exhibition are the tiger which represents (along with the dragon) a contending force of the universe in traditional Chinese geomancy.

The dragon as the yang principle is paramount among aquatic animals while the yin tiger is lord of all land animals.

Although tigers are indigenous to China, tigers and dragons are creatures of the imagination in Japan, known only through continental precedents.

In NOMA's painting of 'Ant on a Mill' by Sozan (1779-1868), the ant becomes a symbol of virtue and patriotism, as well as self interest, and as such, is an apt expression of Zen instruction.

Included in this fascinating exhibition are Chinese ceramics, Japanese sculpture and Chinese tomb figurines. Of the approximately 50 objects some are old friends still on display, others are pieces in the NOMA collection which are seldom seen.

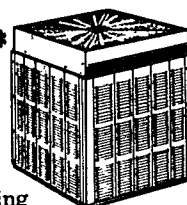

Also included are recent acquisitions of a Heian Period Bodhisattva, a painting by the Zen Monk Hakuin, and a Ching-pai bowl of the Sung Dynasty.

St. Stanislaus holds Honors Convocation

The 16th annual Honors and Leadership Convocation ceremony at St. Stanislaus High School was held April 30 on the school campus. This event is sponsored annually by the Brother Peter Basso Chapter of the national honor society.

The purpose of this ceremony is to recognize the top scholars in the school as well as the leaders of the various school organizations. It is also at this time that new members are inducted into the national honor society.

The opening invocation was given by Jimmy Dempsey, vice president of the national honor society.

Students were presented award certificates for their leadership or participation in the following school organizations:

"Acolyte Fraternity" - Troy Osterly; "Barbershop Chorus" - Greg Denkmann, Greg Legendre, Colin Schmit and Pearce Wood; "Cheerleaders" - Jody Compretta, Stephen Martinovich, Steve Montagnet, Ricky Russo and Harry Woodbury; "Drama" - Scott Comeaux, Chris Merrifield, Colin Schmit and Andre Vial; "French Honor Society" - Colin Schmit; "Intramurals" - David Bast, Albert Bolland, Frank Burdette, Juan Camero, Joe Gex, John Gross, Shane Harris, C.J. Hazeur, Jose Lau, Marco Lau, Shane Sigsworth, Mike Vegas and Tom Walton.

Also, "Last Week at Stanislaus" - John Falcon and Michael Kubin; "National Honor Society" - Jimmy Dempsey, Jose Lau, Steve Montagnet and Mike Yarborough; "Project Do" - Scott Fabacher, John Kergosien, Michael Kubin, John Montz, Roland Sternfels and Scott Weigand; "Reflections" (School Yearbook) - Ned Benvenuti, Fred Endom, John Endom, Joe Sellers and Michael Yarborough; "Service League" - Scott Fabacher, J.J. Koelemij, Michael Kubin, Kenneth Lutschg, Tim Rooks, Andre Vial and Harry Woodbury; "Spanish Honor Society" - David Zanca; "Student Council" - Fred Endom, Jaime Fernandez, Jose Lau, Steve Montagnet and David Zanca; "Varsity Quiz Bowl" - Clark Adams, David Cox, Chris Merrifield, Steve Montagnet and Jake Welsh.

The President's Honor Roll is the highest academic honor a student at St. Stanislaus can receive. To be included on this honor roll a student must achieve a perfect 4.0 grade point average for the school year. A plaque recognizing their membership on the President's Honor Roll was awarded to the following students: David Bourgeois, Michael Cromwell, Marco Lau, Joseph Niolet, John O'Brien and Louis Schruff.

The Academic Honor Roll is earned by students making the alpha honor roll for the school year and possessing a 3.5 grade point average or better. The following students earned this Academic Honor Roll: Clark Adams, Ian Alcaen, Chris Arcement, Scott Arcement, David Bast, James Benigno, Robbie Bishop, Albert Bolland, Stephen Bous, Josh Bowles.

And, Ben Carr, David Cox, Noah Denson, Fred Endom, Jaime Fernandez, Rodrigo Fernandez, Shannon Garrett, Doug Gleber, Andrew Henderson, Scott Hensgens, Chris Kern, Jose Lau.

Also, Terry LeBourgeois, Kenneth Lutschg, Steve Montagnet, John Montz, Ruban Navarro, Rickie Oustalet, Edward Payne, Matthew Richmond, Ben Schepens, Yasin Shabazz, Jack Simpson, William Sperance, Anthony Starcher, Joel Thames, Michael Vegas, Grady Verrett, Joseph Williams, Michael Wolf, Mike Yarborough and David Zanca.

Mike Yarborough, president of the national honor society at St. Stanislaus, inducted the new members into the Brother Peter Basso Chapter of the national honor society. These new members are the following: Clark Adams, Ian Alcaen, David Bast, Albert Bolland, Frank Burdette, Ron Engel, Jaime Fernandez, Joe Gex, Yasin Shabazz and Jack Simpson.

The following students were recognized for having previously been inducted into the national honor society and for having remained in good standing: Steve Bous, David Bourgeois, Josh Bowles, Scott Comeaux, David Cox, Jimmy Dempsey, Fred Endom, Doug Gleber, Jose Lau, Marco Lau, Kenneth Lutschg, Chris Merrifield, Steve Montagnet, Edward Payne, Louis Schruff, Joel Thames, Mike Vegas, Sammy Warman, Jake Welsh, Mike Yarborough and David Zanca.

Mike Yarborough and David Zanca were recognized as the valedictorian and salutatorian of the graduating class; and Jake Welsh was noted for having achieved the status of national merit finalist.

Brother Aquin Gauthier, director of public relations at St. Stanislaus, served as master of ceremonies for the evening. Brother Celestine Algero, principal, addressed the convocation assembly and distributed the awards to the students. Brother William Leimbach, moderator of the national honor society, organized the ceremony; and Mrs. Jeannie Ryan was in charge of the reception following the program.

Incarcerated teen relates dire consequences of drunk driving

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter is addressed to the young readers of The Sea Coast Echo's Youth Section by a teenager from Hancock County who was convicted of vehicular homicide in Jefferson Parish, La. and who is currently serving a sentence in the Louisiana State Penitentiary branch at DeQuincy.

May 9, 1986

From one teen to another:

I have a message I want to pass on to all of the young people out there who drink and drive.

I am 19 years old and I am in prison for killing another person while I was driving drunk.

I had always told myself that this could never happen to me.

Well, it did.

And because I got behind the wheel that nite a man died.

All because I didn't believe it could happen to me.

Some of you may think (as I did) that you will never get into an accident.

Come on! Don't kid yourself!

I was lucky, I'm still alive. But that man and his family are the ones who are suffering.

How many other families are gonna have to suffer, because some of us don't believe it can happen?

Please, if you drink, don't drive. The next time you do, maybe you will end up where I am at, or even worse—you or a friend could be DEAD!

All of us young people can avoid what I have been thru by just not getting behind the wheel drunk.

Take it from someone who knows. Don't Drink and Drive! Don't kid yourself, it kills! believe it, I didn't, and look where I am at.

Lucky to be alive, C.M.

St. Ann Catholic Church

A thought for meditation from our pastor, Father Lambert Stack, ST.
"Never lose an opportunity for seeing anything that is beautiful; for beauty is God's handwriting - a wayside sacrament. Welcome it in every face, in every fair sky, in every fair flower, and thank God for it as a cup of blessing."
—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Last Sunday was a very special day for ten children of St. Ann-St. John Parishes - their First Holy Communion Day. The boys and girls receiving our Blessed Lord for the first time during the 9:30 a.m. mass were: Misty Revere, Stacy Schiro, Chris Green, Windy Vidal, Craig Revere, Stacy Kehnenman, Joni Kehnenman, Christina Ladner, Danielle Hust and Daniel Roberts. Joni Kehnenman and Chris Green participated in the offertory procession during the mass.

Following the mass all mothers of St. Ann - St. John, living and deceased, were remembered for Mother's Day with a procession and the crowning of our Blessed Mother Virgin Mary by Misty Revere. A reception in honor of the First Holy Communicants was held in the parish hall immediately after mass and special devotions to our Blessed Mother.

CCD teachers who helped prepare the children were Shirley Williams, Delores Johnson and Sharon Mauf-ray.
The "Granny Squares" will meet Thursday, May 22, in the parish hall at 10 a.m.
Usable items of clothing, toys, books, furniture, shoes, appliances and odds and ends are being accepted at the rectory or St. Ann's Rummage Sale. Date to be announced later.

Experts agree: Certified Angus Beef is the tenderest, best tasting beef in America. And now, by special arrangement with the American Angus Association this top quality beef is available to you exclusively at National Supermarkets.

ONLY ONE IN FOUR IS GOOD ENOUGH
The Certified Angus Beef stamp of approval carries such high quality standards that only one in four, just 25% of all the Angus cattle tested, are accepted. By contrast, the USDA Choice rating is given to 90% of all beef graded. Even beef advertised as "Black Angus" offers no assurance that it could pass Certified Angus Beef inspections.

THE DIFFERENCE IS IN THE MARBLING
The difference between an average steak and a tender, juicy Certified Angus steak is the marbling — the small flecks of white throughout the beef. Marbling in Certified Angus Beef insures a better tasting cut of meat every time.

EVEN OUR TRIMMING IS SPECIAL
To make sure you get the very best value our meat department trims each cut of Certified Angus Beef to a maximum of 1/4 inch of fat. This not only saves you money but helps make Certified Angus Beef lower in cholesterol than skinless chicken.

LOOK FOR THE SHIELD
So, if you're looking for the best tasting beef in America, just look for the special Certified Angus Beef section in our fresh meat case. The Certified Angus Beef shield guarantees that you'll be serving beef that's better than USDA Choice, better than "Black Angus" and even more highly selected than USDA Prime.
